

ECFC 2024 Barrel Racing Camp

At Equine Champions for Christ's Christian Barrel Racing Camp, young cowgirls will experience an autumn weekend of faith, fellowship, and horsemanship. Under the expert guidance of two-time World Champion Barrel Racer Britney Diaz and renowned barrel racing trainer Lisa Langford, these aspiring champions will hone their skills, developing their relationship with their horses and mastering barrel patterns. Beyond the competition, this camp fosters a strong sense of community and a deep connection to faith, helping each rider to grow both as an athlete and as a person. From mastering barrel patterns to developing their relationship with their equine partners, this camp offers a transformative experience, leaving each girl empowered, inspired, and ready to take on the world.

Equine Champions for Christ is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization dedicated to empowering young rodeo athletes through faith and skill-building. Founded in 2008, ECfC offers clinics in all rodeo disciplines to children from around the world. Our programs help young people develop their talents, gain valuable life skills, and build strong character.

Through world class instruction, hands-on training, and a supportive Christian environment, ECfC empowers youth to achieve their full potential, both in the rodeo arena and in life. Many participants have gone on to excel in rodeo competitions, building confidence and leadership skills along the way.

ECfC's impact is undeniable. Over 2000 have been children served, changing lives and families. We are committed to continuing to make a difference in the lives of young rodeo athletes, building their skills, fostering their faith, and empowering them to reach their full potential.
